CHAPTER 1: The first account I composed, Theophilus, about all that Jesus began to do and teach, until the day when He was taken up to heaven, after He had by the Holy Spirit given orders to the apostles whom He had chosen. To these He also presented Himself alive after His suffering, by many convincing proofs, appearing to them over a period of forty days and speaking of the things concerning the kingdom of God. Gathering them together, He commanded them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait for what the Father had promised, "Which," He said, "you heard of from Me, for John baptized with water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit not many days from now." So when they had come together, they were asking Him, saying, "Lord, is it at this time You are restoring the kingdom to Israel?" He said to them, "It is not for you to know times or epochs which the Father has fixed by His own authority; but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you shall be My witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and even to the remotest part of the earth." And after He had said these things, He was lifted up while they were looking on, and a cloud received Him out of their sight. And as they were gazing intently into the sky while He was going, behold, two men in white clothing stood beside them. They also said, "Men of Galilee, why do you stand looking into the sky? This Jesus, who has been taken up from you into heaven, will come in just the same way as you have watched Him go into heaven." Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath day's journey away. When they had entered the city, they went up to the upper room where they were staying; that is, Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the son of James. These all with one mind were continually devoting themselves to prayer, along with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brothers. At this time Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren (a gathering of about one hundred and twenty persons was there together), and said, "Brethren, the Scripture had to be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit foretold by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who became a guide to those who arrested Jesus. For he was counted among us and received his share in this ministry." (Now this man acquired a field with the price of his wickedness, and falling headlong, he burst open in the middle and all his intestines gushed out. And it became known to all who were living in Jerusalem; so that in their own language that field was called Hakeldama, that is, Field of Blood.) "For it is written in the book of Psalms, 'LET HIS HOMESTEAD BE MADE DESOLATE, AND LET NO ONE DWELL IN IT'; and 'LET ANOTHER MAN TAKE HIS OFFICE.'" Therefore it is necessary that of the men who have accompanied us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us—beginning with the baptism of John until the day that He was taken up from us—one of these must become a witness with us of His resurrection." So they

And there appeared to them tongues as of fire distributing themselves, and they rested on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit was giving them utterance. Acts 2:3-4

CHAPTER 1: The first account (compared, Theophilus, above all that Jesus began to do and teach, until the day when he was taken up to heaven, after he had by the Holy Spirit given orders to the apostles whom he had chosen. In that day several hundred stood about his bedchamber, by many consenting freely, appeared to them over a period of forty days, and speaking of the things concerning the Kingdom of God. Certain men together for consultation chose one to have Judas, but to wait the will of the Lord had chosen, "Whoso," he said, "you heard of from Me, the John baptizer with regard, but you said, he baptized with the Holy Spirit and water days thus, now... So when you had chosen 'Lord, is it at that time You are retaining the kingdom to keep?' He said to them, 'It is not for you to know times or epochs which the Father has fixed by His own authority; but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you shall be My witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and even to the remotest part of the earth.' And when he had said these things, he was taken up while they were looking on, and a cloud received him out of their sight, and as they were gazing upward into the sky while he was going, behold, two men in white clothing stood beside them. CHAPTER 1: The first account (compared, Theophilus, about all that Jesus began to do and teach, until the day when he was taken up to heaven, after he had by the Holy Spirit given orders to the apostles whom he had chosen. It came to pass that on a certain day above after his suffering, by many convincing proofs, appeared to them over a period of forty days, and speaking of the things concerning the Kingdom of God. He said, "You heard of Jesus who was taken up from you, but you did not know the Holy Spirit was upon you, but you were told, 'Lord, it is not for you to know these things, for they are hidden from you and you shall be able to know them when the Spirit has come upon you, and you shall be witnesses both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and even to the remotest part of the earth.' And after he had said these things, he was taken up while they were looking on, and a cloud received him out of their sight, and as they were gazing steadily into the sky while he was going, behold, two men in white clothing stood beside them. These all with one mind were constantly agreeing together to pray, along with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with the brothers, in a gathering of about one hundred, and saying, "Lord, do not take us from this Jerusalem, as the Gentiles have done, for here we have preached, and you, Lord, are our King. For the men who were gathered around us and received his power in this matter," chose that man amongst them, with the consent of all the multitude, and having kneeling, he laid open the tablets and all his scriptures, read out loud, and because he knew to all who were living in Jerusalem, and that he had been hearing and had seen the things which were done in Jerusalem, and that he was in the book of names, "LET US CHOOSE ONE OF US WHO HAS BEEN WITH US AND HEARD ALL THAT WAS SAID AND DONE IN THE BOOK OF NAMES." "Therefore it is necessary that one of the men who have accompanied us all the time that Jesus went with us and all things we heard him say, should be taken up with us, so that he may be a witness with us of these things." And they stood up and gave voice for Simeon, who was called by the name of Peter. And they raised up Simeon, and they laid down their hands on him, and he was taken up. And there appeared to them tongues as of fire distributing themselves, and they rested on each one of them.
