The Book of Genesis, 320

“The verse then reveals Lot’s position: Lot sat in the gate of Sodom. This marks the final stage of Lot’s progression from living in a tent outside the city as a nomad (13:12), to living in a house in Sodom (14:12), to sitting at the gate of Sodom, which shows a position of authority. He had become one of the elders of the city, a position of authority and prominence; he became a magistrate. This may have been due to the fact that the inhabitants of Sodom knew the reason they were rescued by Abraham earlier was because of Lot, and that may have explained how Lot was able to advance so quickly when normally that would not have been the case.”

Romans 12:2

“And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect.”

Colossians 2:8

“See to it that there is no one who takes you captive through philosophy and empty deception in accordance with human tradition, in accordance with the elementary principles of the world, rather than in accordance with Christ.”

Pedophilia: A Disorder, Not a Crime

By Margo Kaplan

CAMDEN, N.J.

THINK back to your first childhood crush. Maybe it was a classmate or a friend next door. Most likely, through school and into adulthood, your affections continued to focus on others in your approximate age group. But imagine if they did not.

By some estimates, 1 percent of the male population continues, long after puberty, to find themselves attracted to prepubescent children. These people are living with pedophilia, a sexual attraction to prepubescents that often constitutes a mental illness. Unfortunately, our laws are failing them and, consequently, ignoring opportunities to prevent child abuse.

The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual prospect of harassment and even violence. Many feel isolated; some contemplate suicide. The psychologist Jesse Bering, author of “Perv: The Sexual Deviant in All of Us,” writes that people with pedophilia “aren’t living their lives in the closet; they’re eternally hunkered down in a panic room.”

While treatment cannot eliminate a pedophile’s sexual interests, a combination of cognitive-behavioral therapy and medication can help him to manage urges and avoid committing crimes.

But the reason we don’t know enough about effective treatment is because research has usually been limited to those who have committed crimes.

Our current law is inconsistent and irrational. For example, federal law and 20 states allow courts to issue a civil order committing a sex offender, particularly one with a diagnosis of pedophilia, to a psychiatrist, or requests a limit in his interaction with children. Isolating individuals from appropriate employment and treatment only increases their risk of committing a crime.

There’s no question that the extension of civil rights protections to people with pedophilia must be weighed against the health and safety needs of others, especially kids. It stands to reason that a pedophile should not be hired as a grade-school teacher. But both the A.D.A. and the Rehabilitation Act require employers to hire “qualified” for a job, even if the person is a threat to the health and safety of others, that can’t be eliminated through reasonable accommodation. People with pedophilia don’t have to be mentally unstable to be hired.

The direct-employment model is the idea that employers should hire people with pedophilia only if they have a job offer from them.

“Now the man had relations with his wife Eve, and she conceived and gave birth to Cain, and she said, ‘I have gotten a manchild with the help of the Lord.’”

“⁷ and if He rescued righteous Lot, oppressed by the sensual conduct of unprincipled men ⁸ (for by what he saw and heard that righteous man, while living among them, felt his righteous soul tormented day after day by their lawless deeds), ⁹ then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment for the day of judgment.”

1 Corinthians 3:1-3 (NKJV)

¹ And I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual people but as to carnal, as to babes in Christ. ² I fed you with milk and not with solid food; for until now you were not able to receive it, and even now you are still not able; ³ for you are still carnal. For where there are envy, strife, and divisions among you, are you not carnal and behaving like mere men?

Dr. Arnold G. Fruchtenbaum

The Book of Genesis, 323

“Then in 19:11 came the angels’ judgment of blindness: And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great. The Hebrew word for blindness here is not the normal word that is used. Outside this verse, this word for blindness is found only once elsewhere, in II Kings 6:18, which is also in the context of angels. This word refers to a partial blindness with mental bewilderment; that is, mental confusion resulting from distorted vision.”

Romans 1:21-22

“²¹ For even though they knew God, they did not honor Him as God or give thanks, but they became futile in their reasonings, and their senseless hearts were darkened. ²² Claiming to be wise, they became fools.”

“The result was: so that they wearied themselves to find the door. They were so insistent upon their wickedness, so intent on homosexual abuse, that even after being struck with blindness they still tried to get through the door until they simply got too tired to continue.”
