Joseph's Journey to Egypt

Luke 1:1–4

¹ Inasmuch as many have undertaken to compile an account of the things accomplished among us, ² just as they were handed down to us by those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and servants of the word, ³ it seemed fitting for me as well, having investigated everything carefully from the beginning, to write it out for you in consecutive order, most excellent Theophilus; ⁴ so that you may know the exact truth about the things you have been taught.

Dr. Arnold G. Fruchtenbaum

The Book of Genesis, 397

“The purpose of recording the death of Ishmael here, which is not a strict chronological sequence, is to continue the author’s pattern in the book, which is to dispense with the non-seed line before dealing with the main seed line, in this case Ishmael’s half-brother Isaac.”

Dr. Arnold G. Fruchtenbaum

The Book of Genesis, 397

“This toldot concludes by describing Ishmael’s territory and descendants: And they dwelled from Havilah unto Shur that is before Egypt, as you go toward Assyria. That means the territory extended from the Euphrates River in the north to the Red Sea in the south, and from the Northern Sinai to the western border of Babylonia. Havilah was the southeast border of his territory, located in Northeast Arabia. Shur was the southwest border toward Assyria, giving the northern border. Basically, this was the Arabian Peninsula that is described.”
