“We read the prophecy concerning the future judgment and blessed restoration of Elam (modern day Iran). . . . The judgment is described in verses 35 through 38. . . . Most importantly, we read in verse 38 that the Lord says that ‘it will come about in the last days that I will restore the fortunes of Elam.’ . . . This is critical because it gives us another indication that this is an End Times prophecy, consistent [with] the previous prophecies.”

“At this point, it’s important to discuss Iran’s double jeopardy in the latter days...Iran is the subject of dual judgment prophecies, one in Jeremiah 49:34–39, and the other in Ezekiel 38 and 39. This means that the rogue nation will experience double trouble in the end times.”

Dr. John F. Walvoord

The Nations in Prophecy, 169

“A brief prophecy concerning Kedar and Hazor is contained in Jeremiah 49:28–33. It is a prediction of judgment upon them at the hands of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. A similar judgment is pronounced upon Elam in Jeremiah 49:34–38.”

Warren Wiersbe

Wiersbe, The Wiersbe Bible Commentary: Old Testament, 1259.

“Whenever a nation was defeated, the victors would set up their king’s throne in the city gate (Jeremiah 1:15; 39:3; 43:8–13), and that’s what God promised to do in Elam (49:38). He would let them know that He was King.”

Ezekiel 32:24-25

²⁴ “Elam is there and all her hordes around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who went down uncircumcised to the lower parts of the earth, who instilled their terror in the land of the living and bore their disgrace with those who went down to the pit. ²⁵ They have made a bed for her among the slain with all her hordes. Her graves are around it, they are all uncircumcised, slain by the sword (although their terror was instilled in the land of the living), and they bore their disgrace with those who go down to the pit; they were put in the midst of the slain.”

“Ezekiel connects more prophetic dots by acknowledging that Elam is guilty of causing ‘terror in the land of the living.’ The prophet also mentions this fact two times in these verses. Iran is notably the world’s foremost sponsor of international terror.”

Ezekiel 32:24-25

²⁴ “Elam is there and all her hordes around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who went down uncircumcised to the lower parts of the earth, who instilled their terror in the land of the living and bore their disgrace with those who went down to the pit. ²⁵ They have made a bed for her among the slain with all her hordes. EVERY PROPHECY OF THE BIBLE

Clear Explanations for Uncertain Times

JOHN F. WALVOORD

Dr. John F. Walvoord

Every Prophecy of the Bible, 164-65

“Ezekiel 32:1–32...Other nations such as Elam would also be in Sheol (v. 24). They were a people who settled east of Babylon and later were absorbed by the Persian Empire. They were conquered by both Assyria and Nebuchadnezzar (Jer. 49:34–39). The thought of their dying with the uncircumcised, a disgraceful death, is mentioned frequently in this passage (Ezek. 32:19, 21, 24–30). Meshech and Tubal are also in Hades (v. 26), referring to a people probably originally living in the area north of Turkey. They later became the subject of prophecy in Ezekiel 38–39. In addition to all the people mentioned, Pharaoh would join them in Sheol. Also, there would be the Sidonians, described as ‘all the princes of the north’ (v. 30), probably located north of Egypt. The concluding prophecy was that Pharaoh and his army would be there as well, having been killed by the swords. This was fulfilled in 663 and 571 BC.”

Ezekiel 32:24-25?

Mark Hitchcock, Showdown with Iran (Nashville, TN, 2020), Appendix 1.

“In this setting, Ezekiel is unmistakably referring to defeated Elamites in his own day who were already in the grave, waiting for the arrival of the ancient Egyptians. Ezekiel’s reference to Elamite soldiers who had already died precludes this prophecy from finding its fulfillment in the end of days. How could modern Iranian soldiers be waiting in the underworld for Egyptians who were destroyed more than two and a half millennia ago? That simply doesn’t make any sense.”

“According to all major translations, the meaning of the text is clear:

1. The passage concerns the city of Damascus.
2. The passage is a prophecy, concerning the future of Damascus.
3. Damascus will be utterly destroyed.
4. Damascus will no longer be a livable, inhabitable city.
5. Damascus will lie in ruins.”

When viewed together, we can say the following about the prophecies concerning Damascus found in Isaiah 17 and Jeremiah 49:

- a. The prophecies refer to a divine judgment by God against the city of Damascus. . . .
- b. The prophecies refer to the utter, catastrophic destruction of Damascus.
- c. Both are eschatological passages, referring to End Times events that have yet to occur.
 - i. Isaiah's prophecy was given to him in 715 BC, well after the conquering of Damascus in 732 by Tiglath-pileser.
 - ii. Likewise, Jeremiah's ministry occurred between 626 BC and 586 BC, long after Tiglath-pileser conquered Damascus in 732 BC.

- d. Damascus has certainly been attacked, conquered, and burned at various points in history, including Biblical history—but it is clear that the prophecies of Isaiah 17 and Jeremiah 49 have not yet been fulfilled. Damascus is, after all, one of the oldest continuously inhabited cities on the planet.
- e. We cannot be certain when these judgments will happen, and the prophecies will be fulfilled.
- f. They could come to pass before, during or after the War of Gog & Magog (Ezekiel 38–39); before, during, or after the Rapture; or before or during the Tribulation. The texts simply do not say, so we cannot be definitive.
- g. It is possibly that the prophecies could come to pass in the not-too-distant future. But they certainly will come to pass at some point before the Second Coming of Christ (the ‘Day of the Lord.’).

“In the last days, the Bible tells us of a horrible series of events that will take place in the lands of Israel and Syria. One of these events is the disappearance of Damascus as one of the premiere cities in the world. . . .In the very near future, Damascus will once again play a major role in human events. The prophet Isaiah provides us with God’s commentary on a future conflict between Damascus and Israel, and in so doing, he reveals certain prophecies which have been partially fulfilled in the past. However, the ultimate fulfillment of Isaiah 17 remains in the future. The current existence of Damascus, which will one day cease to be a city, as well as the historical absence of the coalition of nations prophesied to attack Israel and be destroyed by God, is proof that Isaiah 17 prophesies events yet future.”

“In Isaiah 13 to Isaiah 24, the Lord speaks directly to the future of Gentile nations near or surrounding Israel. These prophecies are also End Times matters—that is, they are events that will take place just before the Tribulation, or during the Tribulation, and come to complete fulfillment on or about the Day of the Lord (the literal, physical Second Coming of the Lord Jesus Christ). We know these are End Times prophecies—and not near-term prophecies that would take place during Isaiah’s lifetime or even in the generations that would immediately follow—because of the numerous eschatological references that Isaiah makes.”

“Since the context before Isaiah 17:1–2 is a near future fulfillment and the context after it is also a near fulfillment, it would be strange for Isaiah 17:1–2 to have a distant fulfillment in the end times.

- Isaiah 16:14 Prophecy of Moab’s Destruction (fulfilled within three years)
- Isaiah 17:1–11 Prophecy of the Destruction of Damascus
- Isaiah 17:12–14 Prophecy of the Destruction of the Assyrian army in one night (fulfilled within about thirty years in 701 BC).”

EVERY PROPHECY OF THE BIBLE

Clear Explanations for Uncertain Times

JOHN F. WALVOORD

Dr. John F. Walvoord

Every Prophecy of the Bible, 91

“Isaiah 17:1–8. The coming destruction of Damascus, one of the ancient cities of the Middle East, the capital city of Aram, is predicted (vv. 1–2). Damascus was allied with Israel in fighting the Assyrians, but it was to no avail because the Assyrians would triumph. Jacob would be like a person with a fat body that wasted away (v. 4). The destruction of Damascus was fulfilled in history and prophecy. As a result of their discipline by the conquering Assyrians, Israel would turn from their false gods and Asherah poles to the true God (vv. 7–8).”

Milton Terry

Biblical Hermeneutics: A Treatise on the Interpretation of the Old and New Testaments (1885; reprint, Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 1947), 205.

Milton Terry explains: “A fundamental principle in grammatico-historical exposition is that the words and sentences can have but one significance in one and the same connection. The moment we neglect this principle we drift upon a sea of uncertainty and conjecture.”

Dr. Bernard Ramm

Bernard Ramm, Protestant Biblical Interpretation, 3rd rev. ed.
(Grand Rapids: Baker, 1970), 113.

“But here we must remember the old adage: ‘Interpretation is one, application is many.’ This means that there is only one meaning to a passage of Scripture which is determined by careful study. But a given text or a given passage may speak to a number of problems or issues. Five or six different kinds of sermons could be preached from the text, ‘You must be born again’ (John 3:7). What application the preacher makes of the text is determined by the purposes of the sermon. But the preacher must always distinguish the initial primary meaning of the text from the particular application he makes with it.”

Isaiah 53:3–6

³ He was despised and forsaken of men, A man of sorrows and acquainted with grief; And like one from whom men hide their face He was despised, and we did not esteem Him. ⁴ Surely our griefs He Himself bore, And our sorrows He carried; Yet we ourselves esteemed Him stricken, Smitten of God, and afflicted. ⁵ But He was pierced through for our transgressions, He was crushed for our iniquities; The chastening for our well-being fell upon Him, And by His scourging we are healed. ⁶ All of us like sheep have gone astray, Each of us has turned to his own way; But the LORD has caused the iniquity of us all To fall on Him.

Jeremiah 49:23-27?

Mark Hitchcock, Showdown with Iran (Nashville, TN, 2020), Appendix 2, n. 8.

“Jeremiah 49:23–27 (BKC): God vowed to consume the fortresses of Ben-Hadad. ‘Ben-Hadad’ (lit., ‘son of [the god] Hadad’) was the name of the dynasty that ruled in Damascus in the ninth and eighth centuries b.c.” “Dyer notes the mention of ‘Benhadad,’ which ‘was the name of the dynasty that ruled in Damascus in the ninth and eighth centuries BC.’ The use of that name would be strange if this refers to an end-time event. The towers of Benhadad are long gone today.”

Dr. John F. Walvoord

The Nations in Prophecy, 164

“Damascus was one of the most ancient cities of the Middle East and one of the few to have a continuous history down to modern times. First mentioned in Genesis 14:15, it continued to have a relationship to Israel throughout the Old Testament period where there are more than forty references and in the New Testament where it is mentioned fifteen times. The more extended prophecies as found in Isaiah 17:1–14 and Jeremiah 49:23–27 have all been fulfilled as well as the occasional references found in Isaiah 7:8; 8:4; Amos 1:3–5; 3:12; 5:27.”

“Psalm 83 is kind of like Psalm 2, it is just saying that (there is similar language — why did the nations rage against Israel in Psalm 83) look there are people who are always against Israel. Israel is always going to have these enemies, they are always going to be against them and God is going to deal with them someday. We don’t see a separate Psalm 2 war.”
