

Family Activity #3

- When you think of “EMOTIONAL INTIMACY” what kinds of activities do you believe are included in that term? Are there any activities that you are currently involved in which would fall into the category of “EMOTIONAL INTIMACY?”
- What are some examples of ways that you need to take responsibility for how others may respond to the attention you are giving them? Are there some “freedoms” you may need to limit in order not to offend others?
- What does a proper relationship between boys/girls and men/women look like? What are the proper personal boundaries you need to set in these relationships? How can you learn to graciously stand up for God’s standards of right and wrong in relationships (especially when others are pressuring you)?
- Give examples of how putting intimacy before commitment leads to brokenness. How important is it to you to protect yourself from this kind of situation?
- How strong is your relationship with Christ and with your parents? What kinds of accountability do you currently have? Are there things you are doing which you already know are not appropriate? Are you willing to give up those things in order to be better protected from harm?
